Emergency Intervention

The starting points of the many journeys we travel on begin with personal crises such as rough sleeping, substance misuse, sexual exploitation and violence.

The first important step of these journeys is towards our help.

We have confidential telephone numbers to call for guidance and advice.

We have emergency accommodation to which anyone can bring themselves.

We have day centres and group meetings

We have safe and secure accommodation for families

We are caring and expert.

Together we can help plan your journey; together we can map it out.

Together we can work out whose extra help we'd like.

We can take those next steps together.
