Progression

You're getting the hang of this.

We've been travelling together for a little while now and you've picked up a lot.

We're proud of you. You're proud of you – and you're learning all the time.

You've got a spring in your step and when we come across a challenge you've got the answer. And even it doesn't come to you straight away – you know how to take a break and check the map. And it's you who decides which way we'll move forward.

You're becoming independent and you're feeling good and the best bit is...- you know how to keep being that way.....

We've got places to stay where we'll drop in if you need us, it's your space

We've got opportunities to train – to develop new skills

We've got opportunities to get qualifications

We've got experts who can help you get a job

We've got jobs for you to do

We've got ways you can give back – where you can show others how to make the journey

We're always here if you need us

We're so proud when you decide its time to move on. We're so happy when you set off on a journey of your own.
